THE HINDSONIAN

The Ending . . .
yet the beginning of an ERA

“The Ending . . . Yet Beginning Of An Era”

“The Ending . . . Yet Beginning Of An Era” is the theme chosen for our 1999-2000 yearbook. The class of 2000 will be ending the industrial age and leading their underclassmen into the new millennium.

This year at Hinds AHS, we have overcome many obstacles, achieved many goals, and witnessed several historical events. Our goal is to capture as many of these events as possible. As you scan the pages of your yearbook twenty years from now, we want you to remember the good times, your friends, your suitors, your rivals, your teachers, and everything you accomplished at Hinds AHS.

We are definitely ending an era and hopefully beginning a prosperous future.

Mr. And Miss Hinds AHS

Collars Moore from Edwards, MS, is the son of Ms. Evelyn Moore. He enjoys being with family and friends, listening to music, traveling, and reading. He is affiliated with TSA, Gifted and Talented, the "Not Here" Club, the Social Studies Club, the Newspaper Staff, and the Utica Campus Marching Band. He strongly believes that one should live each day to the fullest extent.

Brandy Caston from Utica, MS, is the daughter of Ms. Jo Ann Caston. She enjoys writing, playing her clarinet, and spending time with loved ones. She is an active member of TSA, Gifted and Talented, Hospitality Club, Newspaper Staff, FCCLA, and the Utica Campus Marching Band. Her philosophy of life is "If you can't have the best of everything in life, make the best of everything you have."

“A Message From The Senior Class”

Life is a long and bumpy road
We each carry our troubles, like a heavy load.
There are many hard turns and some dead ends
But whenever we're stuck we must try again.

No one's got an easy ride
But failure can be pushed aside
When we give up hope nothing good can happen
So, when all seems lost you must try again.

You can't have a meal, if you don't sit at a table
You won't learn the moral, if you don't read the fable
You can't take control, if you're plagued by inaction,
And you won't overcome lost dreams, if you don't try again.

When the coin's in the air, if you don't pick head or tails
Having not made the choice you are bound to fail.
But if you choose and choose wrong,
You can always still win,
Because on the next flip you can still try again.

Those who succeed seem to have it made
Basking in the sunshine or lying in the shade
But they have been down too, and it was just then,
That they picked themselves up.
So, they could try again.

So when your spirit is weak and you need to cry
And you want to be happy, but you have to sigh
When things seem bleakest, that's the time when
You must shrug it all off and Try, try again.
