This past year, Hinds AHS was about the business of becoming a gleam in the Utica and surrounding communities. Her negatives were minimized; her positives were highlighted; and her sense of quality education was idealized. Why? It happened because we had a sure-fire plan, one that involved all of us, along with outside consultants and facilitators.

As a result of our "Putting the Plan Together", much was accomplished. Hinds AHS incorporated Senate Bill #2239 into her disciplinary procedures, started developing a School Improvement Plan, raised her graduation requirements from twenty (20) to twenty-three (23) Carnegie Units, utilized Cyberstar and Plato as means of improving academic achievement, updated the Technology Plan, and broke with many of the traditional practices in the classrooms. More hands-on and performance-based activities were generated as well as was more community, business, and parental involvement.

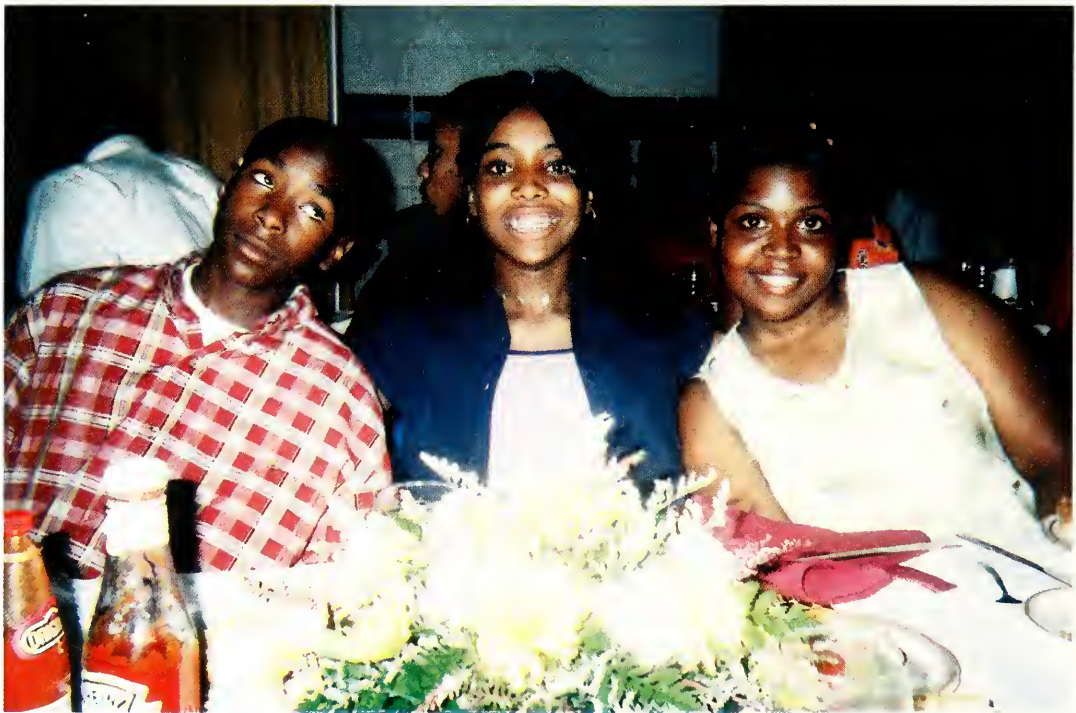

Overall, Hinds AHS met the challenge of educating the total person by providing those activities and circumstances that are essential to producing prosperous students and productive citizens. It happened all because everyone worked hard at "Putting the Plan Together".

“Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.”

— Proverbs 15:17

“A man hath no better thing under the sun,
than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry.”

— Ecclesiastes 8:15

— Aldous Huxley

Derrick Lawson finds out that the security officer loves his job.

The seniors really took Switch Day seriously. Can you tell the girls from the boys?

Keithan Noel wants to be hard, but that smile must GO!

There is nothing like Spirit Week at Hinds AHS. Everybody gets into the act. This year the fun centered around Pajama Day, Switch Day, Tacky Day, Career Day, and Maroon and Gold Day. That Hinds AHS Student Body is truly amazing!

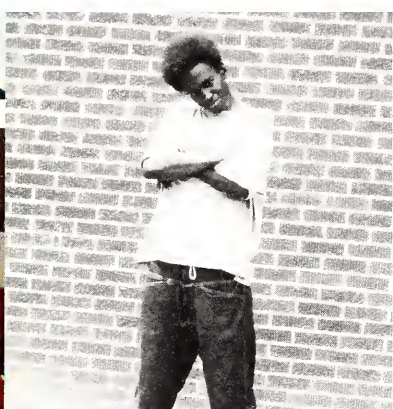

“Genius does what it must, and Talent does what it can.”
— Owen Meredith

The Hinds AHS students are always willing to display their talents and wits with the realization that “A smile is worth a thousand words.” Another thing or precept that we practice is, “If you got it, flaunt it!”

Lunchtime is the time for socializing.
The students chat with each other or wait very contently in line for their lunch trays. Patricia Fultz lets everyone know that it's her birthday by displaying her birthday money for all to see. Tosha Jordan is not interested, however, because she enjoys a brief nap as she waits for her classmates to finish their meal.

“Courage mounteth with occasion.” — Shakespeare

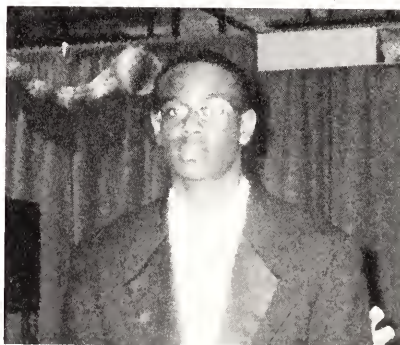

Freshmen Tiffany Taylor and Deidra Turner, along with Derek Segrest, (center row), prove their tenacity. They show the upperclassmen that they, too, can be energetic, vibrant, and in-step when it comes to band practice. They seemingly are saying, “Whatever you can do, I can do just as well or better.”

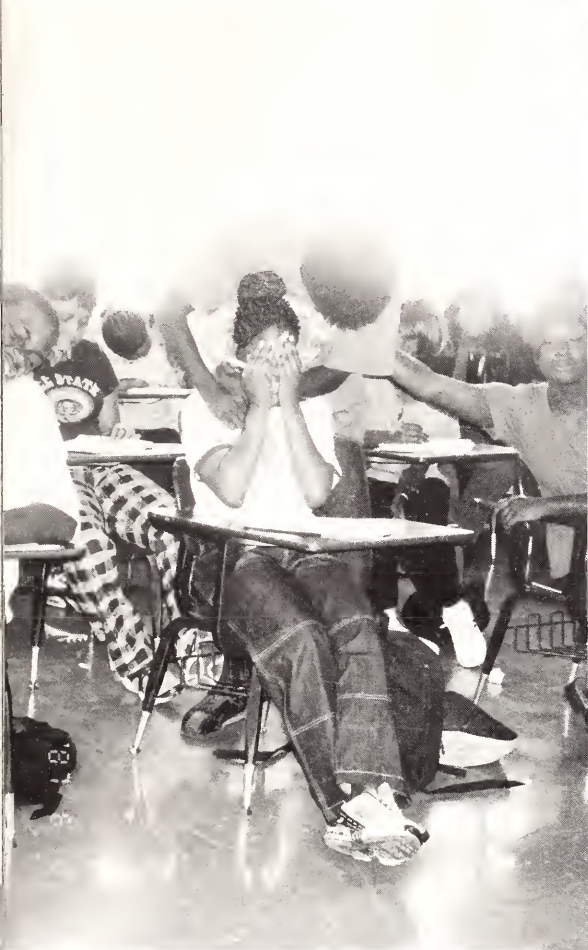

“I am the people — the mob — the crowd — the mass. Do you know that all the great work of the world is done through me?” — Carl Sandburg

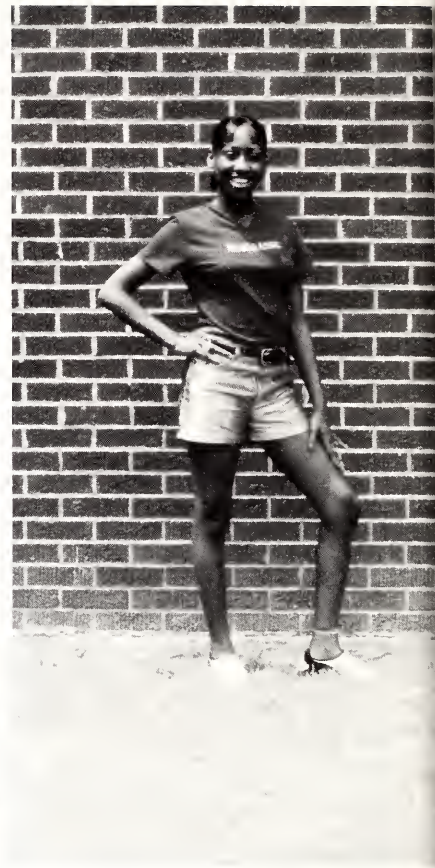

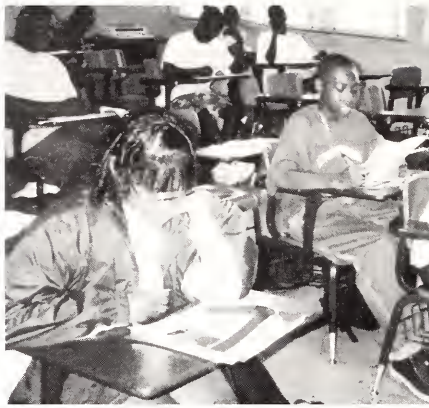

“You should pray for a sound mind in a sound body.” — Juvenal

“Seeing’s believing, but feeling’s the truth.” — Thomas Fuller

Variety is the thing that makes school life interesting. The classes, the activities, the fun times, as well as the quiet times, all combine to aid in the development of well-rounded students. These students are preparing to become tomorrow's leaders. What they do and encounter in high school plays an essential role in laying the foundation for their future.

Mr. and Miss Hinds AHS Pageant 2002

The contestants for the 2002 Mr. and Miss Hinds Pageant dressed up to tape their campaign speeches prior to the pageant itself. The speeches were taped at the Audio-Visual Center of the William H. Holtzclaw Library on the HCC Utica Campus by Mr. George McQuirter. The participants had to dress up as pictured to the right. Also, each participant prepared campaign fliers which were posted throughout the Hinds AHS hallways, expressing their desires to hold the prestigious title of either Mr. or Miss Hinds 2002-2003.

“An Hour of Enchantment”

One of the phases of the pageant required each of the contestants to model formal wear. A varied array of fashion was portrayed. In addition to modeling, each contestant had to display his/her talent and his/her oral communication skills by selecting a question from several questions in a box offered by Mr. and Miss Hinds 2001-2002, Terence Crump and Constance Shorts. A final stroll followed the question/answer segment.

Entertainment was provided by the Mahogany Dancers and Boys With Style (BWS).
