TECHNICAL

Utica's educational, mind-developing setting is divided into four basic divisions—Academics, Technical, Vocational, and Continuing Education. The combination of these divisions create the mindpower of education. This Pragmatic atmosphere has been proven to be cohesive to the student who is serious about securing a sound quality education.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

At the eighty-first annual commencement exercises 160 graduates accept their degrees and certificates. Vice-President Stokes introduces the speaker, Dr. James A. Hefner, President of Jackson State University. Dr. Hefner congratulates the graduates, challenges them to do their best, and reminds them that their future depends upon their efforts and their abilities. With optimism, the students accept their degrees and certificates as Dr. Muse presents them.

TOWARDS HIGHER GOALS

OPEN HOUSE DORMITORY COMPLEX

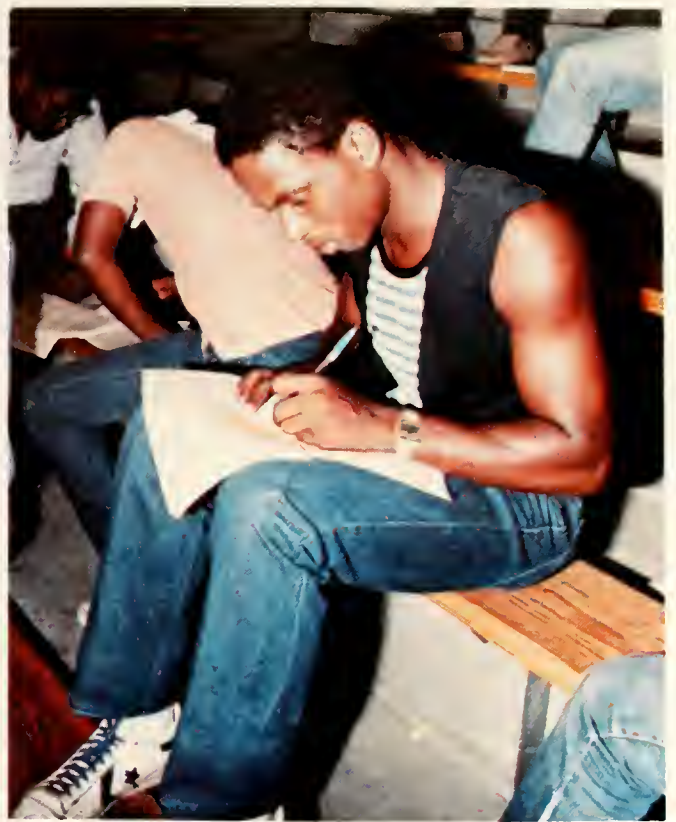

For too many years the administrators at the Utica Campus had requested on-campus housing for students. Finally, open house for the dormitory complex was a great day in the life of the institution. It was a real joy to have supporters, including administrators, faculty, staff, students, and alumni share in the occasion. Honorees for whom the dormitories were named were acknowledged.

Board members, administrators, SGO president, and Miss UJC were all a part of the ribbon cutting ceremony.

REGISTRATION

At registration, students pick up registration material, complete trial schedules, get class cards, and proceed for fee assessment.

STUDENT LIFE

Oh! Wonder what happens next.

That food really looks delicious.

Beverley Jackson reads the lovely lyrics on a friendship card.

Deena Holmes rewrites her notes to study for a test.

Let's hurry so we can soon get things organized.

If I hang these clothes correctly they won't need pressing.

Remembering my combination was easy.

Now this is the key to your mailbox, not your room.

Is a reaction taking place?

I just came in from class.

It's relaxing to play with a stuffed animal.

A triangle, a rectangle, a circle . . .

MISS UJC PAGEANT

Intellectual, charming, and beautiful . . . These words appropriately describe the lovely candidates as they compete for the honorable title of Miss UJC. The participants rival in church, swim, and evening wear and talent and question-answer. After the scores were tallied, Miss Earnestine Broome was announced Miss UJC.

Earnestine Broom, Miss UJC, is a native of Utica. The daughter of Mrs. Bessie Bibbs, she is majoring in pharmacy. Her hobbies are playing sports, such as basketball, softball, and track, sewing, cooking, singing, dancing, acting, and meeting people. She believes in the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Mr. UJC, Ralph Russell, a native of Urbana, Illinois, is a music major. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin L. Gray. He enjoys fixing puzzles, playing tennis, fishing, and singing. A cancer, his motto is "Never say what you can't do until you try it, for all things can be done with prayer and practice."

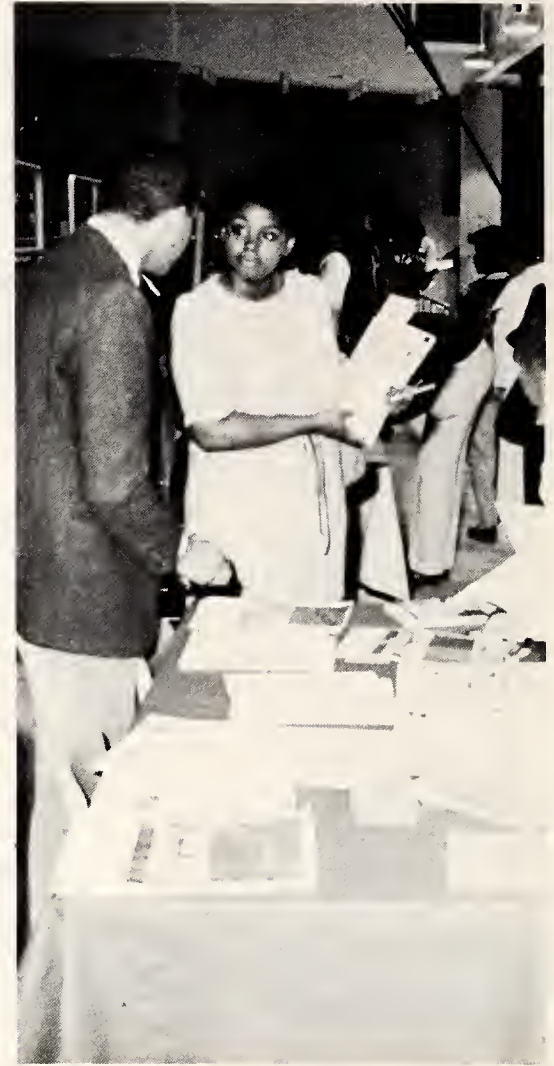

CHARMING . . . LOVELY . . . BEAUTIFUL

The Miss UJC Pageant proved to be one of the biggest extravaganzas of the school year. Several young ladies came out to compete for the noble title of Miss UJC. Brenda, Rochelle, Samantha, Mary Ann, and Michelle all displayed grace, charm, beauty, loveliness, and talent.

CAREER DAY

Annual Career Day for sophomores give them an opportunity to become aware of the variety of careers and of job availabilities. Businesses, industries, and educational institutions send representatives to inform students of the essential preparation for careers of their choice. As the students communicate with the representatives, they receive brochures, handouts, and souvenirs.

MAKE THE RIGHT CHOICE!

Skills required, outlook of job, salaries, fringe benefits, and advancement were the concerns of sophomores as they talked with representatives during Career Day activities. They got both information and enjoyment from the day's event.

SENIOR DAY . . .

Under the supervision of Mrs. Monica Daniel, Senior Day is held each year in March. Counselors from the high schools in the supporting counties of Claiborne, Hinds, Rankin, Warren, and Copiah are asked to inform class sponsors and have them bring their seniors who are interested in attending the Utica Campus. The day's agenda includes registration, a tour of the campus, a brief program, displays of divisions, distribution of souvenir, and entertainment.

SELECTING A COLLEGE

The Freedom Band entertains the seniors to conclude the day's activities. Participants observe the performance.

Dr. Mae Helen Thomas

Miss Mae Helen Thomas, 37, died of massive injuries as her car collided with a Copiah county school bus on the Dentville Road on October 8, 1984.

A native of Hazelhurst, Mississippi, Miss Thomas graduated from Parrish High School in Hazelhurst. She received her bachelor's degree from Mississippi State University in Starkville, Mississippi, and was a doctoral candidate at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb, Illinois.

For the past ten years, she taught English composition and world literature. She also served in a variety of other capacities at Utica Junior College, including sponsor of the Dramatics Club.

At an early age, she joined the Temple Church of Christ Holiness, U.S.A. She also worked faithfully in the church and administered a continuous musical ministry until her death.

Her survivors include one daughter, Ursula; her father and mother, Ben and Alma Thomas; one brother, Benny; and five sisters, Margaret, Caroline, Verlee, Sophronia, and Eloise, and a countless number of loving relatives, friends, and co-workers.

Tommy fakes and passes to Daryl who shoots for a two pt. play.

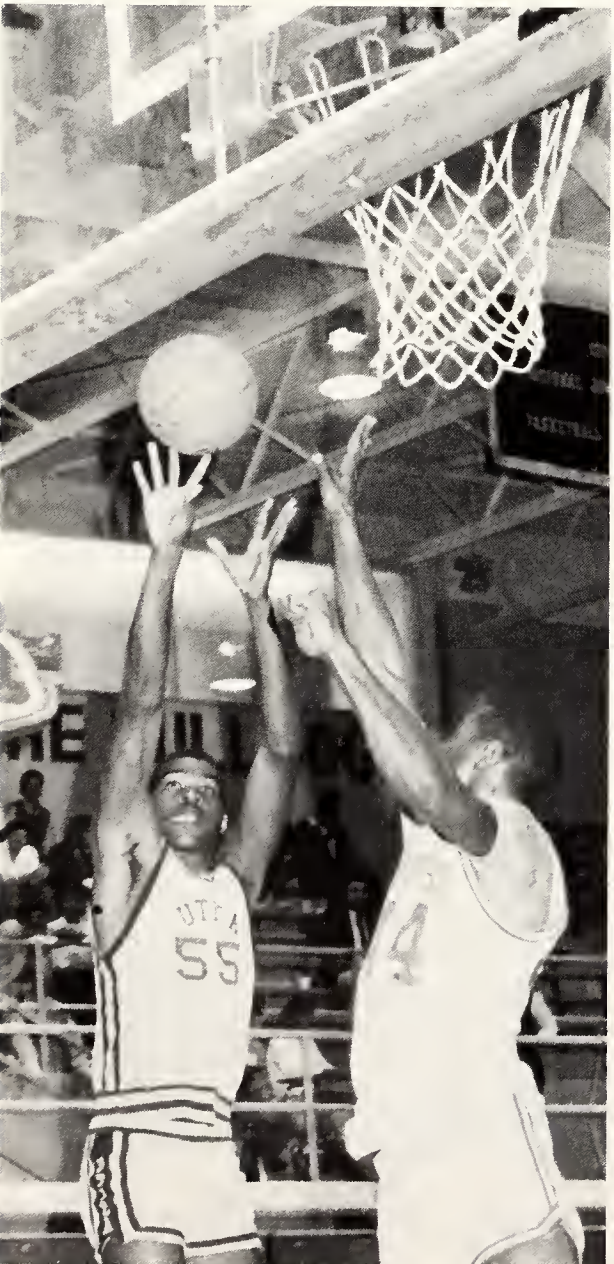

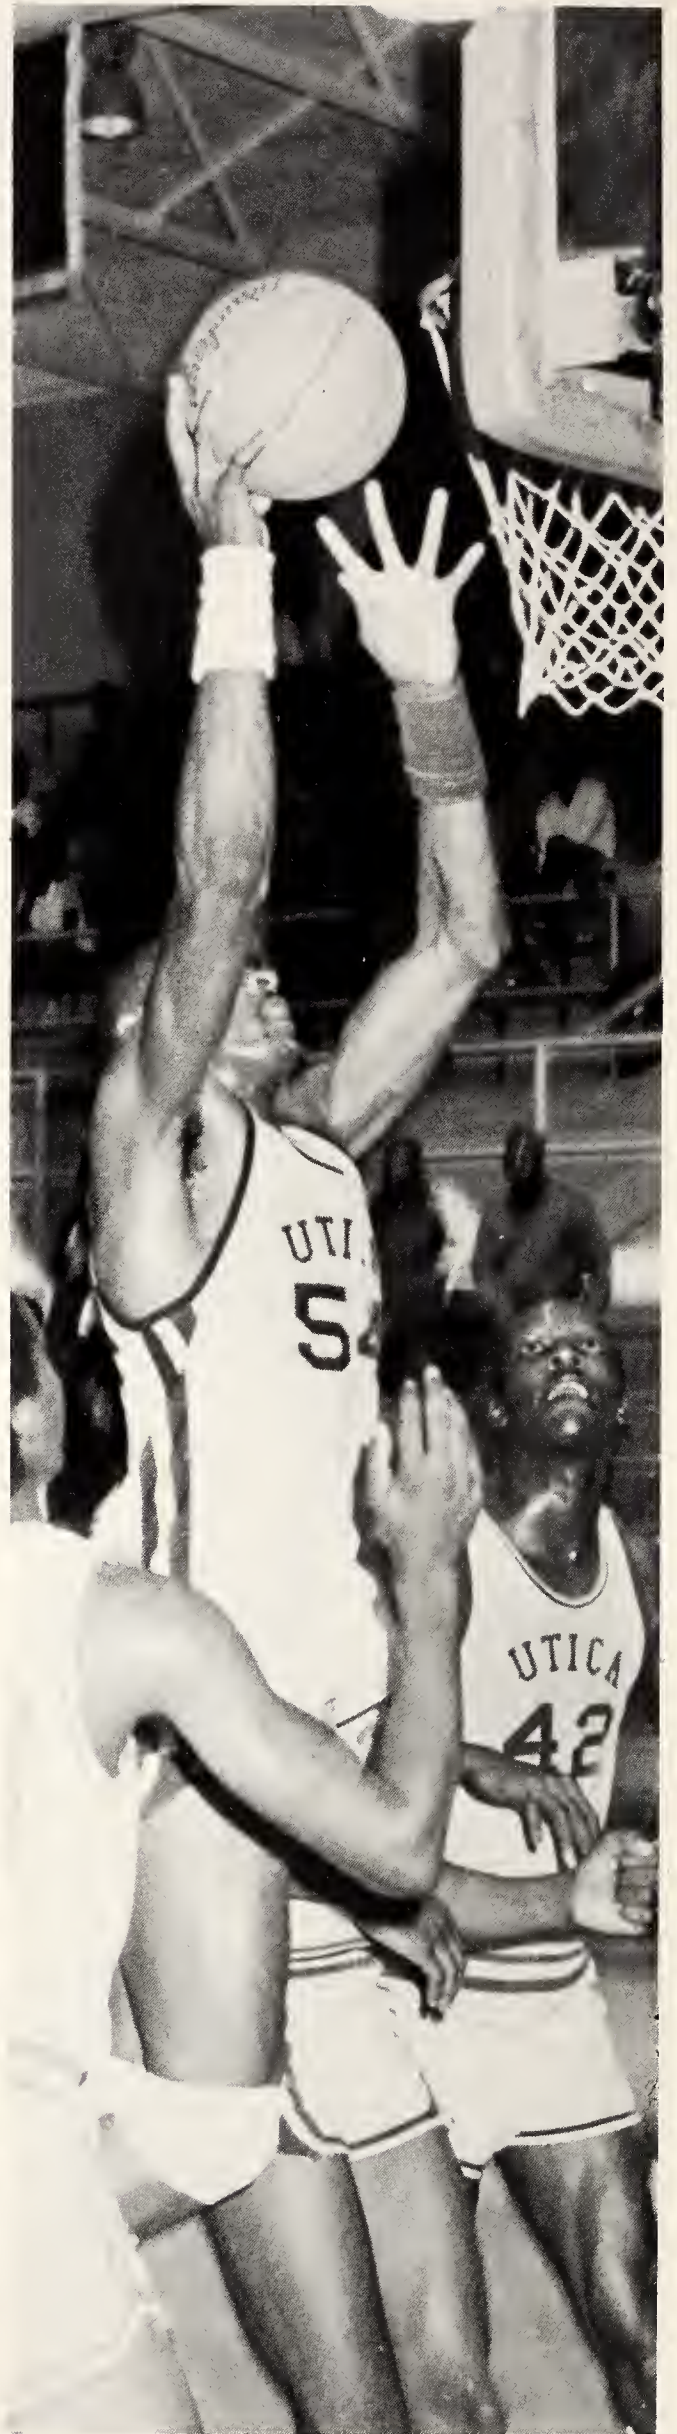

Oliver shoots for two points.

Donald goes in for an easy lay up.

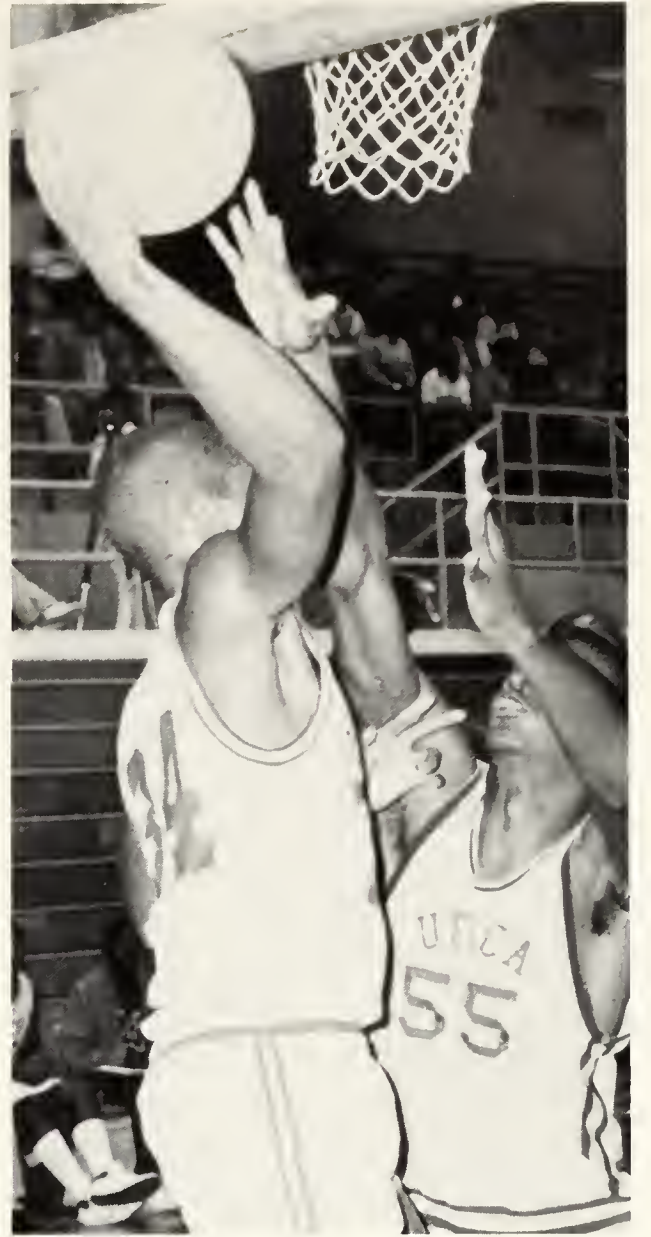

They tried with all their might—

To stop the mighty—UTICA BULLDOGS!

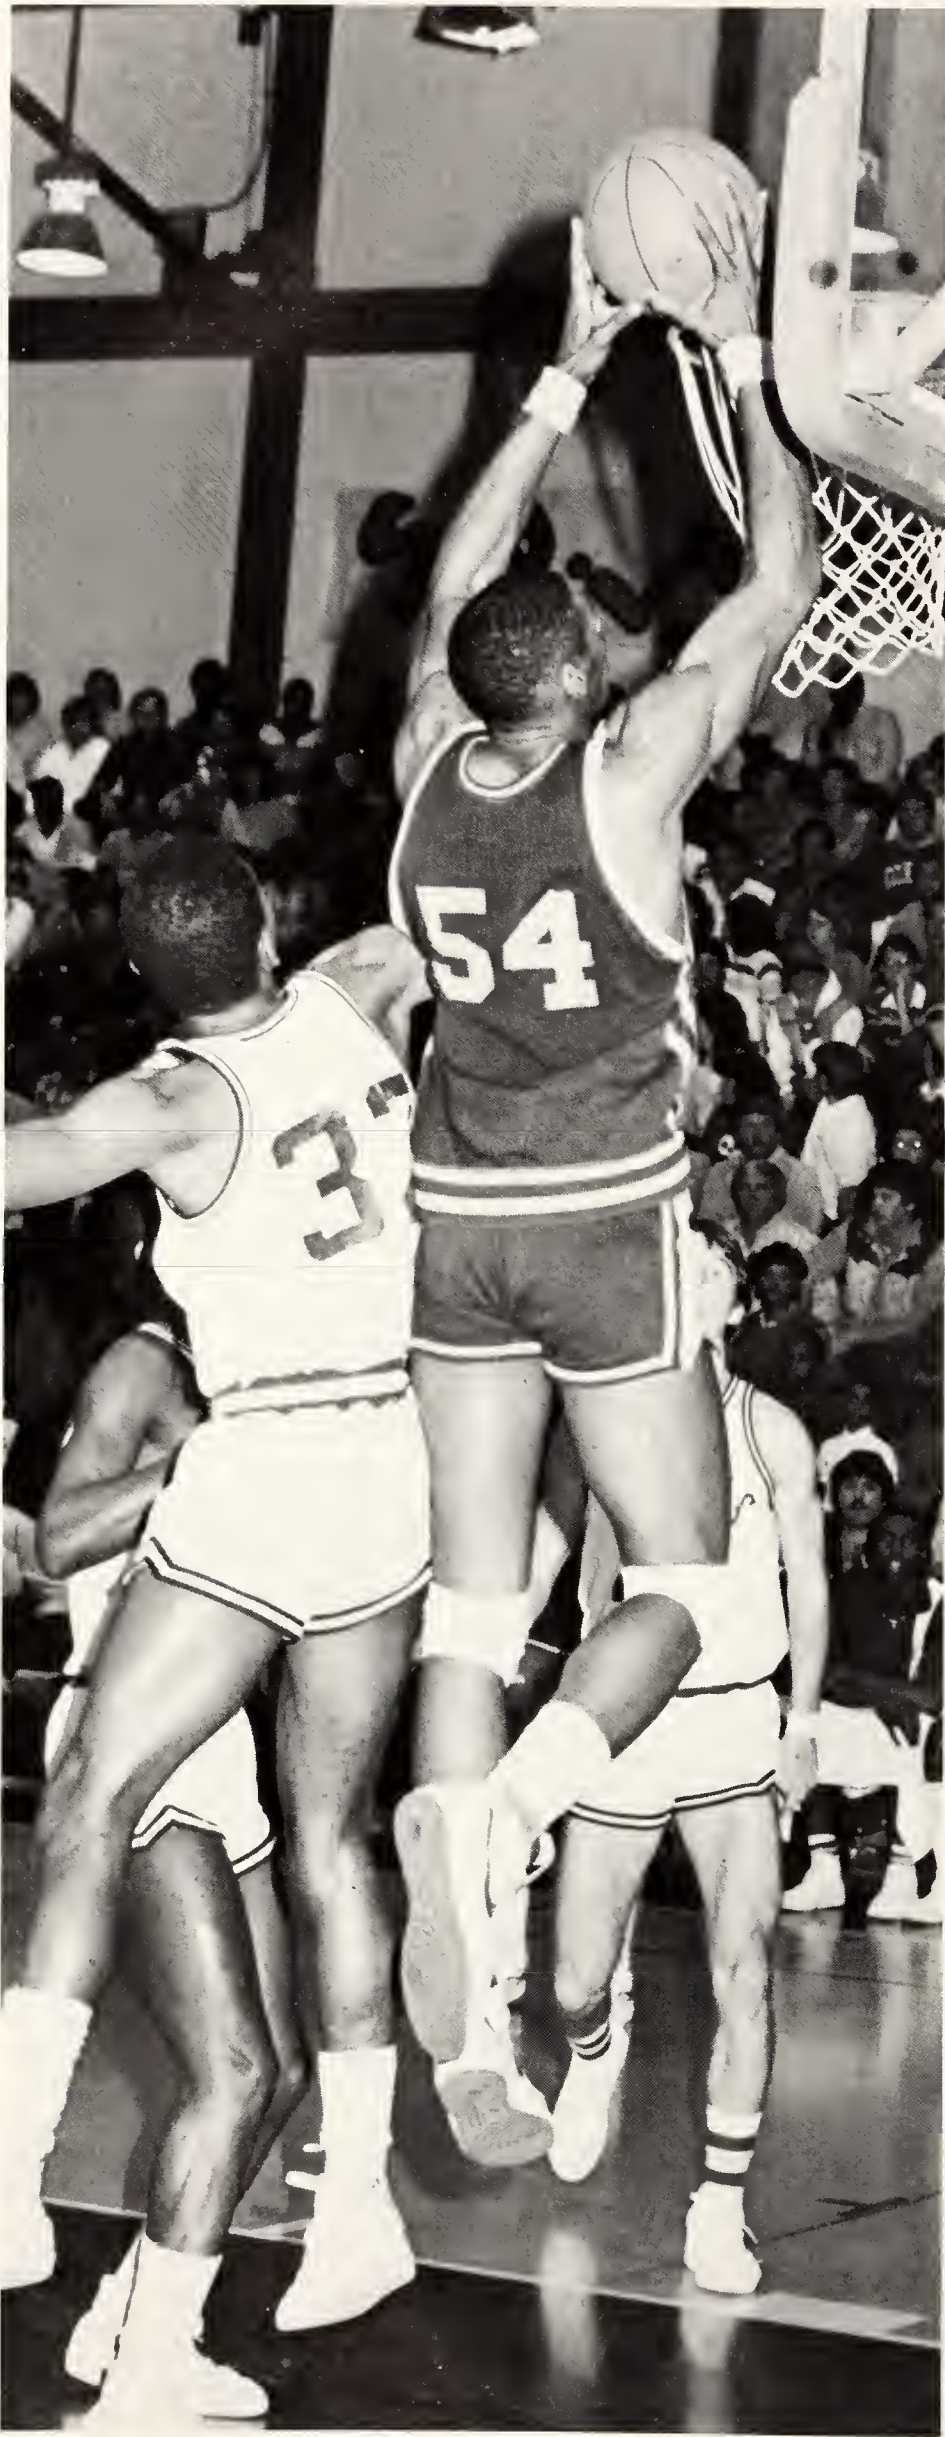

Everybody's doing the latest dance called the BIRD, Micheal takes advantage of the situation and goes up for a two pt play.

Archie shoots for two as Daryl prepares to rebound.

Theodore lends a two pt assist.

Shefrie steals the ball, returns it to the hoop, and captures another win.

Two words for awesome . . .

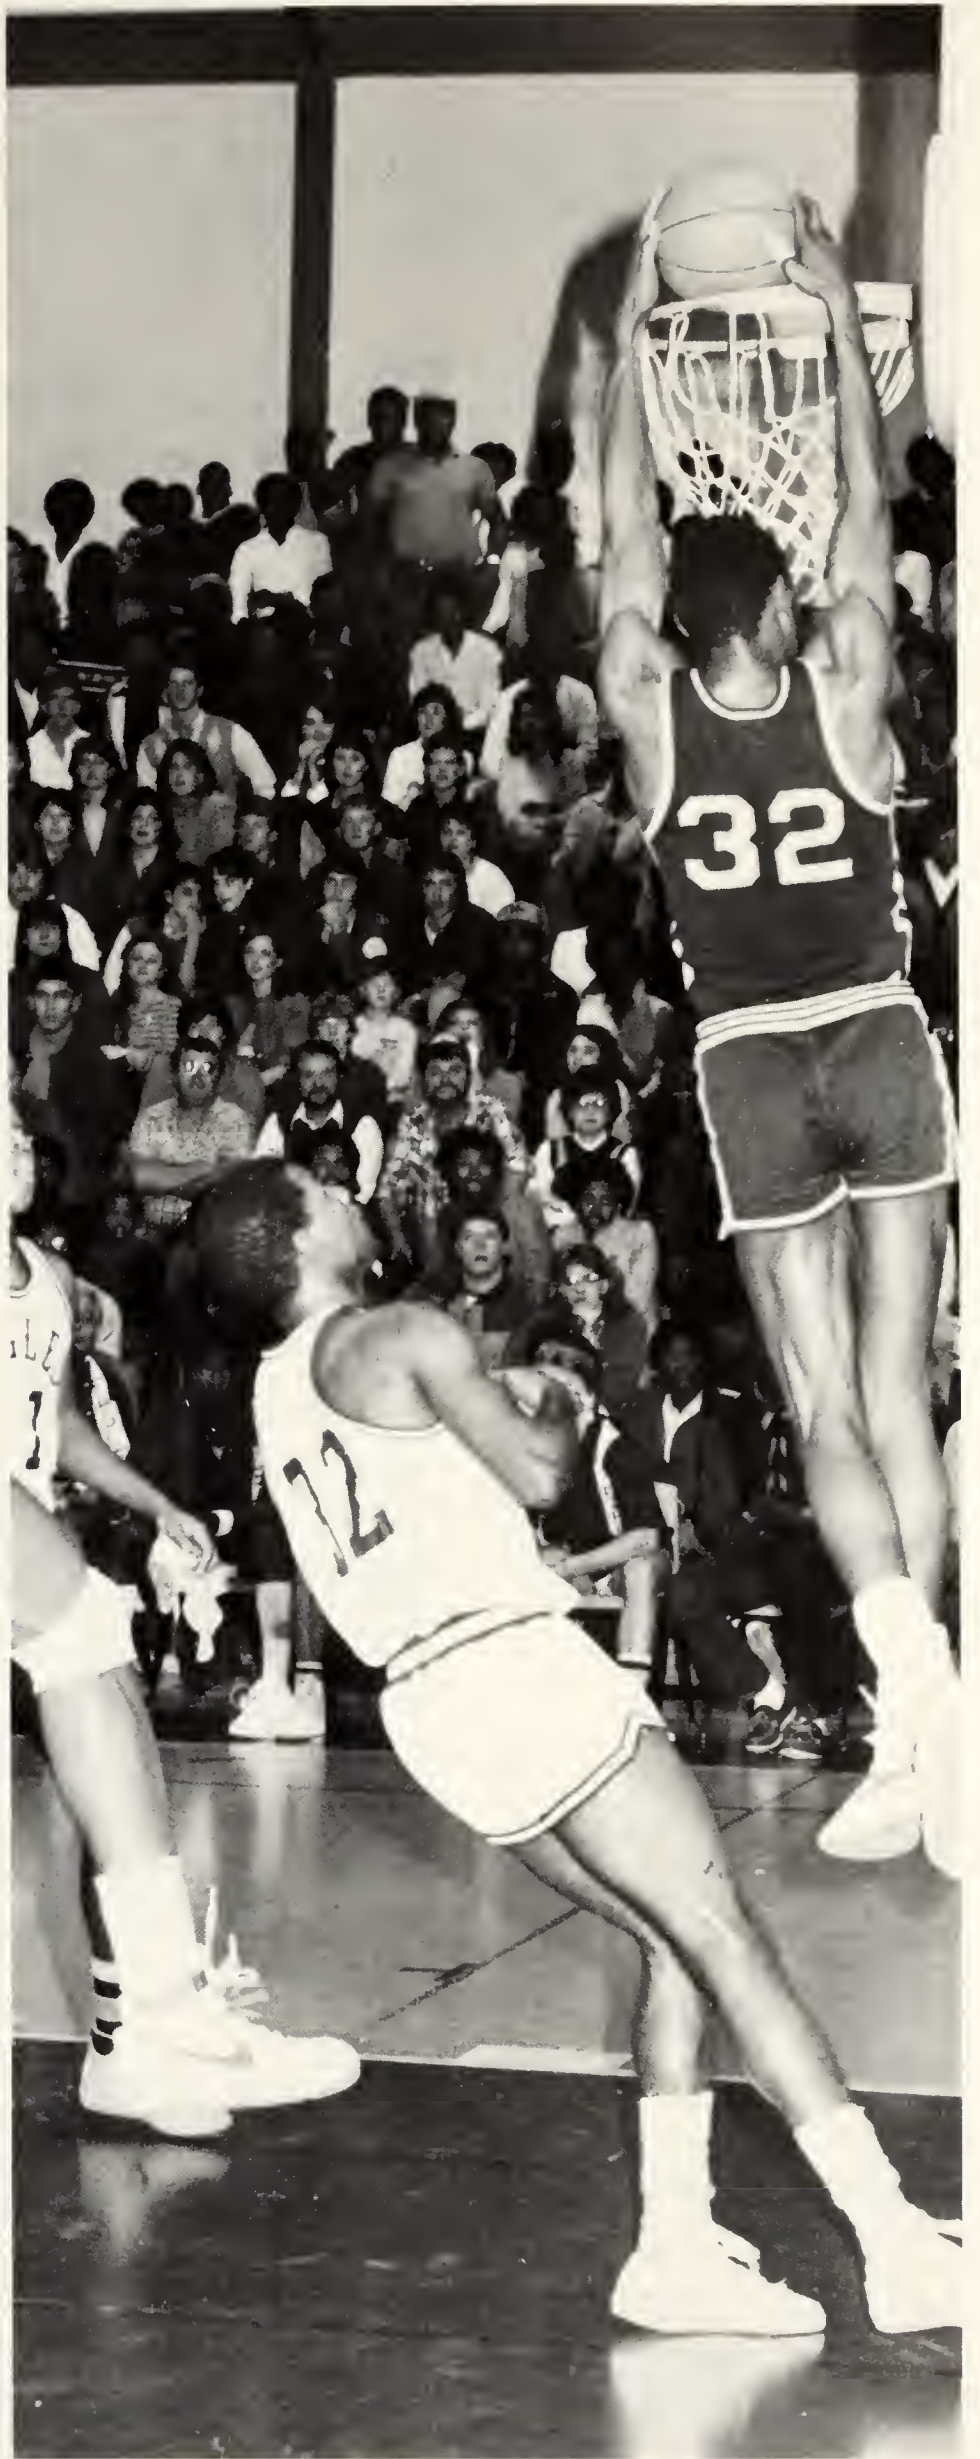

. . . Archie and Jimmie

Archie goes for the loose ball and two points as Jimmie waits in the wing for the rebound.

Again, Archie is on the scene. Tommie waits for the steal.

Jammie is just as awesome as twin brother, Jimmie.

As beautiful and golden brown as the crisp leaves in the fall, brighter than sunshine on a clear summer day. Like the little watery eyes when old man winter calls, and a rose in the springtime when the aroma never seems to go away.

For the beautiful colors and sun in September, and for its fragrance, this day I will remember. I will remember this day when I am no longer able to play. I will remember my nursery school days and Mrs. Evans until I am old and gray

Lifestyle of a Leader

January 23, 1985

Students, Friends, and Alumni:

The mark of every civilized society is its ability to record the events that are associated with its existence. The Annual Staff at the Utica Campus of the Hinds Junior College District shows a high degree of civility through the production of the 1984-85 Yearbook. It is my high honor to congratulate the Annual Staff for its very fine chronicling efforts.

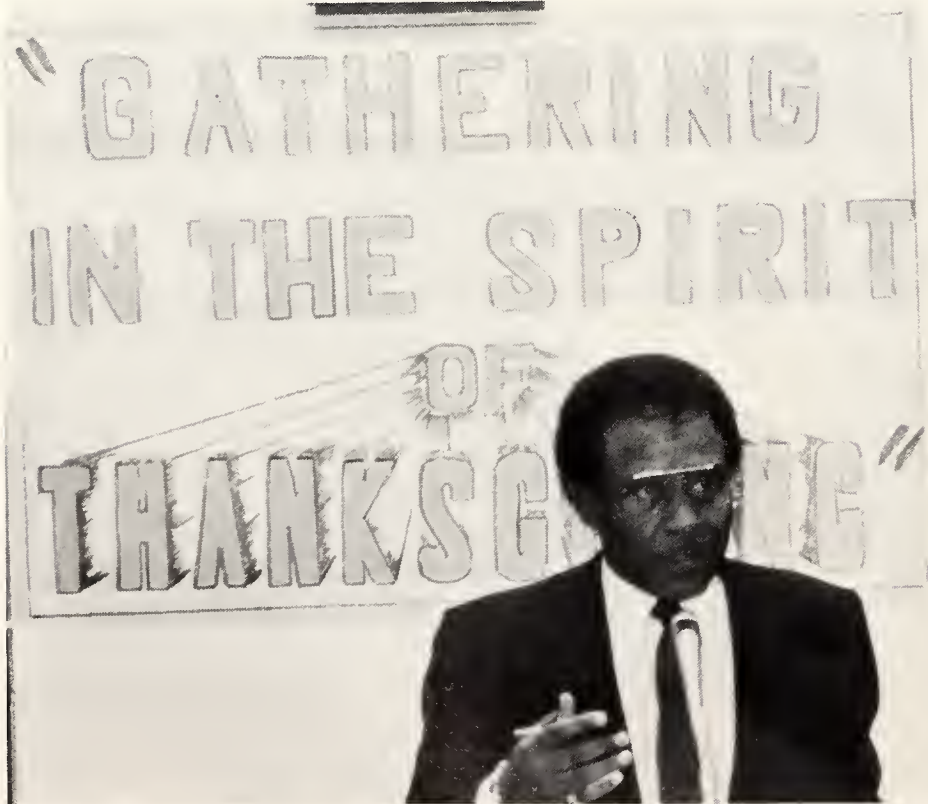

In endeavoring to lead human beings from the darkness that is caused by ignorance, to the "good life" that is created by excellence, which is implicit in the American way of life; we do it the "old fashioned" way through excellence exhibited by a caring, concerned, and highly qualified faculty. Our teachers and administrators have an abundance of those qualities that are necessary to raise young minds to their highest potentials. Our campus is augmented with the necessary supporting elements to insure success. Indeed, the entire Hinds Junior College District is composed of these kinds of success assuring elements.

We are committed to providing individuals with an opportunity to improve their "lot" in life, if they would just respond to the exposure to our campus and its personnel. The activities shown in our yearbook are a further expression of the points we have listed above. The pictures of the facilities, classrooms, shops, and other supporting elements depict rather emphatically a strong commitment for upward mobility of our students. The essence of this upward mobility intent is shown in this yearbook, page by page.

The leadership of the yearbook effort is to be congratulated. The advisors, student editors, and reporters all have shown their desire to become effective in a pursuit of excellence and the removal of ignorance. We thank them for their time and effort for making all of us aware of our commitment to the uplifting of humanity through education and the progress we are making toward that end.

Yours truly,

J. Louis Stokes
Vice-President

PRODUCTION NO. X

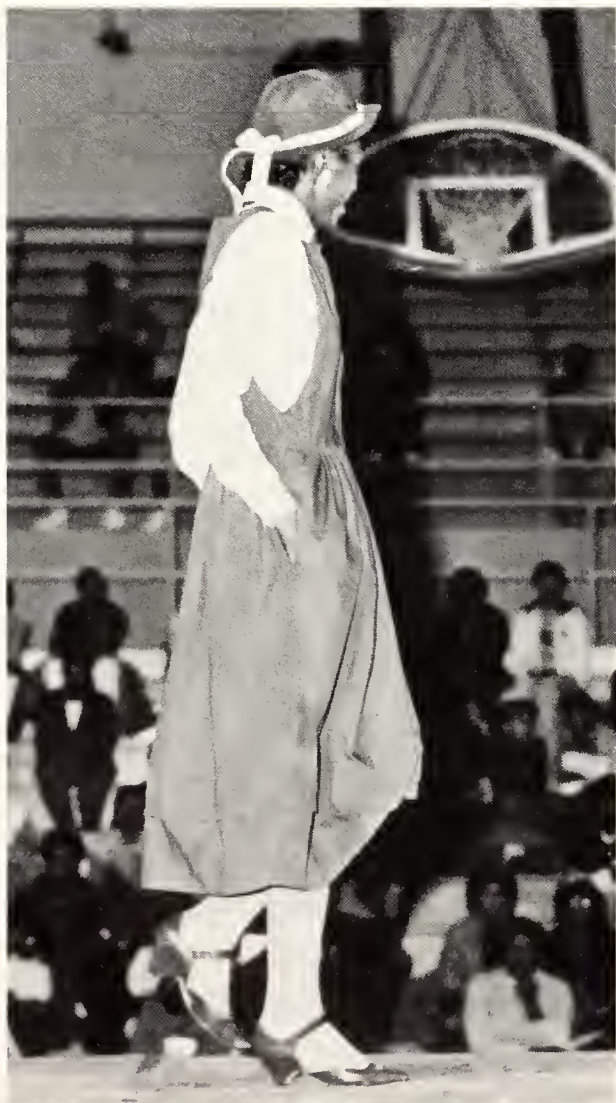

Each year the clothing and textile students present a fashion production of designs almost uniquely their own. Models wear designer garments tailored to fit only the curvaceous woman. This year's models depicted the scenes of male impact, the purple rain influence, body language and ghost creatures. These students possess aspirations and dreams that are synonymous only with infinity. Proceeds from the event were awarded to the college choir on their dreams to visit the Big Apple where they are to perform in the cultural mecca of the states—Lincoln Center in New York.

Zinia, Marsha, Deena, Donna and Yvonne start the rave production.

Janie strolls down the runway styling a black and white checked straightlegged pant suit. Accessories include a black hat with tiny white inlaid and black shoes.

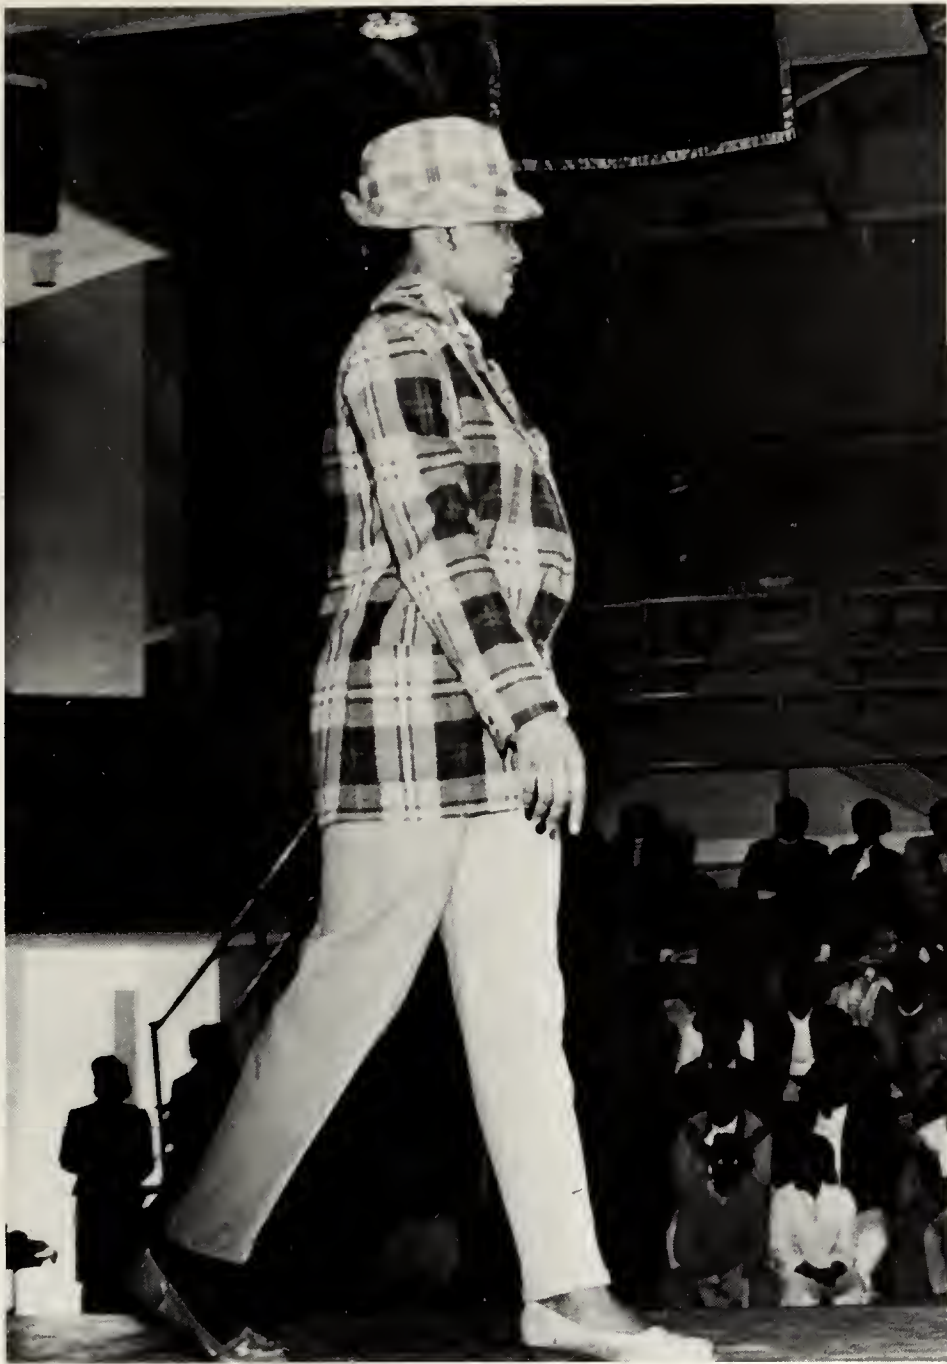

Marsha models a blue jumper dress that buttons to the tapered waist. Her blouse and hose are white with blue strapped shoes. Marsha also designed a blue hat with white bow tied ribbon to match.

Donna strikes a pose modeling a red dress with yellow beads, red hat with yellow flower and a hearty smile.

IMMACULATE!

Donna models a royal & navy blue and beige double-breasted checked coat with matching hat, beige slacks and shoes, and royal blue blouse.

Deena sports a striped red, black and yellow double-breasted jacket with red slacks and shoes, yellow hat and blouse with red bow tie. Deena also carries a red bag.

In the ghost creature scene, Yvonne sports green pants and lime ruffled blouse and ghost buster shades. Stunning.

Yvonne models a red, blue and yellow skirt and top, blue hat, red earrings and gold bracelet.

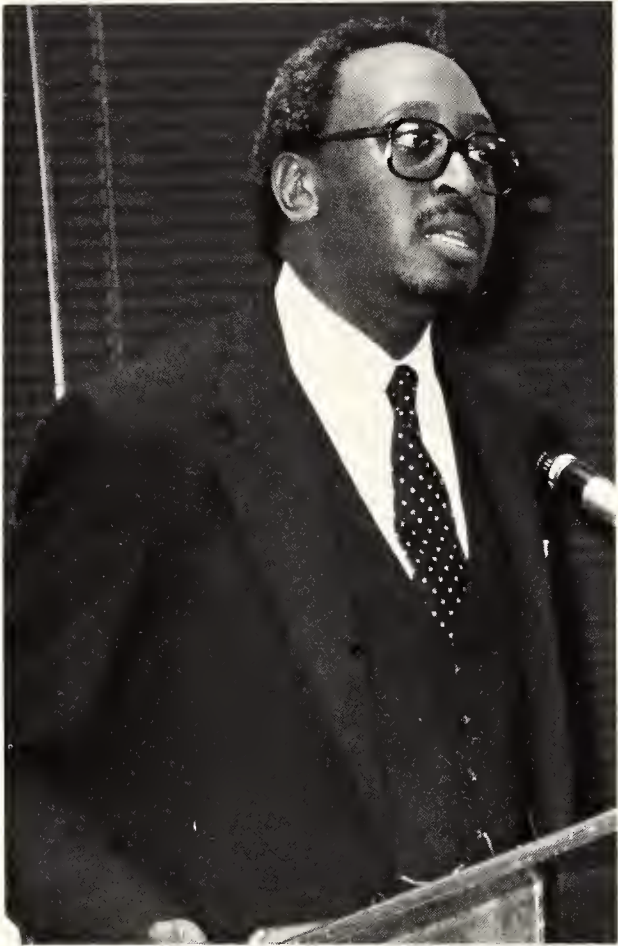

Anita models a black draped dress, black shoes, grey beads and a black hat with grey silk tie.

GATHERING IN THE SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING

The annual Thanksgiving dinner serves as a time for communion between the institution and its communities. This interaction between the college and community supporters serve as a strengthening tool for all concerned about the faith of this institution. Dr.

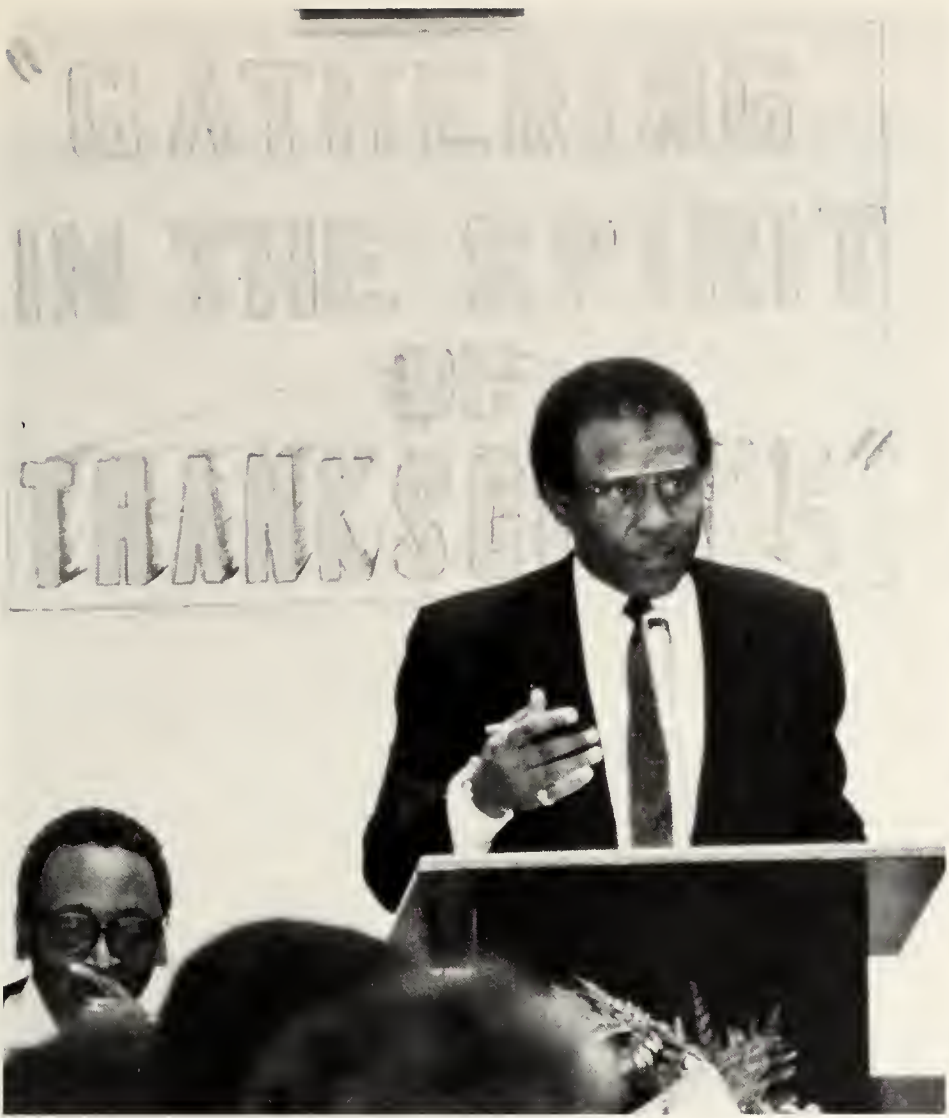

Hickman Johnson, pastor of Farish Street Baptist Church, served as keynote speaker. Dr. Johnson was introduced by Mr. J. Louis Stokes, Vice-President. Mrs.

Debra Woolman, clothing instructor, served as toastmistress. Other program participants were the Jubilee Singers, Mr. Shelby Johnson, Hinds AHS social science instructor, and Rev. Joseph Bartee, welding instructor.

Dr. Johnson delivers an astounding message representative of the theme "Gathering in the Spirit of Thanksgiving."

Mr. Stokes, Vice-President, shares a Thanksgiving joke to set the tone.

The intensity of Dr. Johnson's message warmed hearts and provided a provocative impact.

Movin' on Up—A Journey into Darkness is a two act dramatic musical based on the Broadway hit "The Believers." Like its distinguished predecessor, "The Believers," "Movin' On Up" travels a musical route along a historical line of progress. Since the early slave days, at Jamestown, Virginia in 1619, the Black man has frequently expressed himself in song.

That tradition, from Africa through enslavement and into the liberation struggle of today—CONTINUES. That gift of song has flourished side by side with a unique language, an abiding humor, and as inner SPIRIT that survives, succeeds, and grows and grows.

This is the life style culture portrayed.

MOVIN' ON UP

A JOURNEY INTO DARKNESS

In the AFRICAN SEQUENCE, music and movement are used to show some of the cultural developments of our African heritage. The scene goes from the joys of ceremonial dance to the confusion of captivity. The scene ends with the symbolic crossing of the Atlantic through the MIDDLE PASSAGE.

In the SLAVERY SEQUENCE, the cast does an innovative turn in that the capacity to laugh, under oppressive conditions, is brought forth. Humor in the midst of difficulty was and is the basis of survival and historic creativity.

EMANCIPATION was a time of joy. There was fear of the unknown but again the capacity to "laugh to keep from crying" held forth. Next came the MIGRATION north to the big cities.

Humor is displayed during a Saturday Night Frolic, a time for relaxing after a week of work. Fun and friendship depict a warm side of Black life style. However, the lights fade after the fun frolic of Saturday, and when the stage is seen again (in the next instance) the same good time Saturday nighters go to church with pomp, piety and prayer. But beneath the sobriety of Black RELIGIOUS EXPERIENCE, the humor, ego and the urge to "be somebody"—even if only once a week, prevails. Finally, "after Sunday comes Monday," the audience is reminded that life goes on seven days a week.

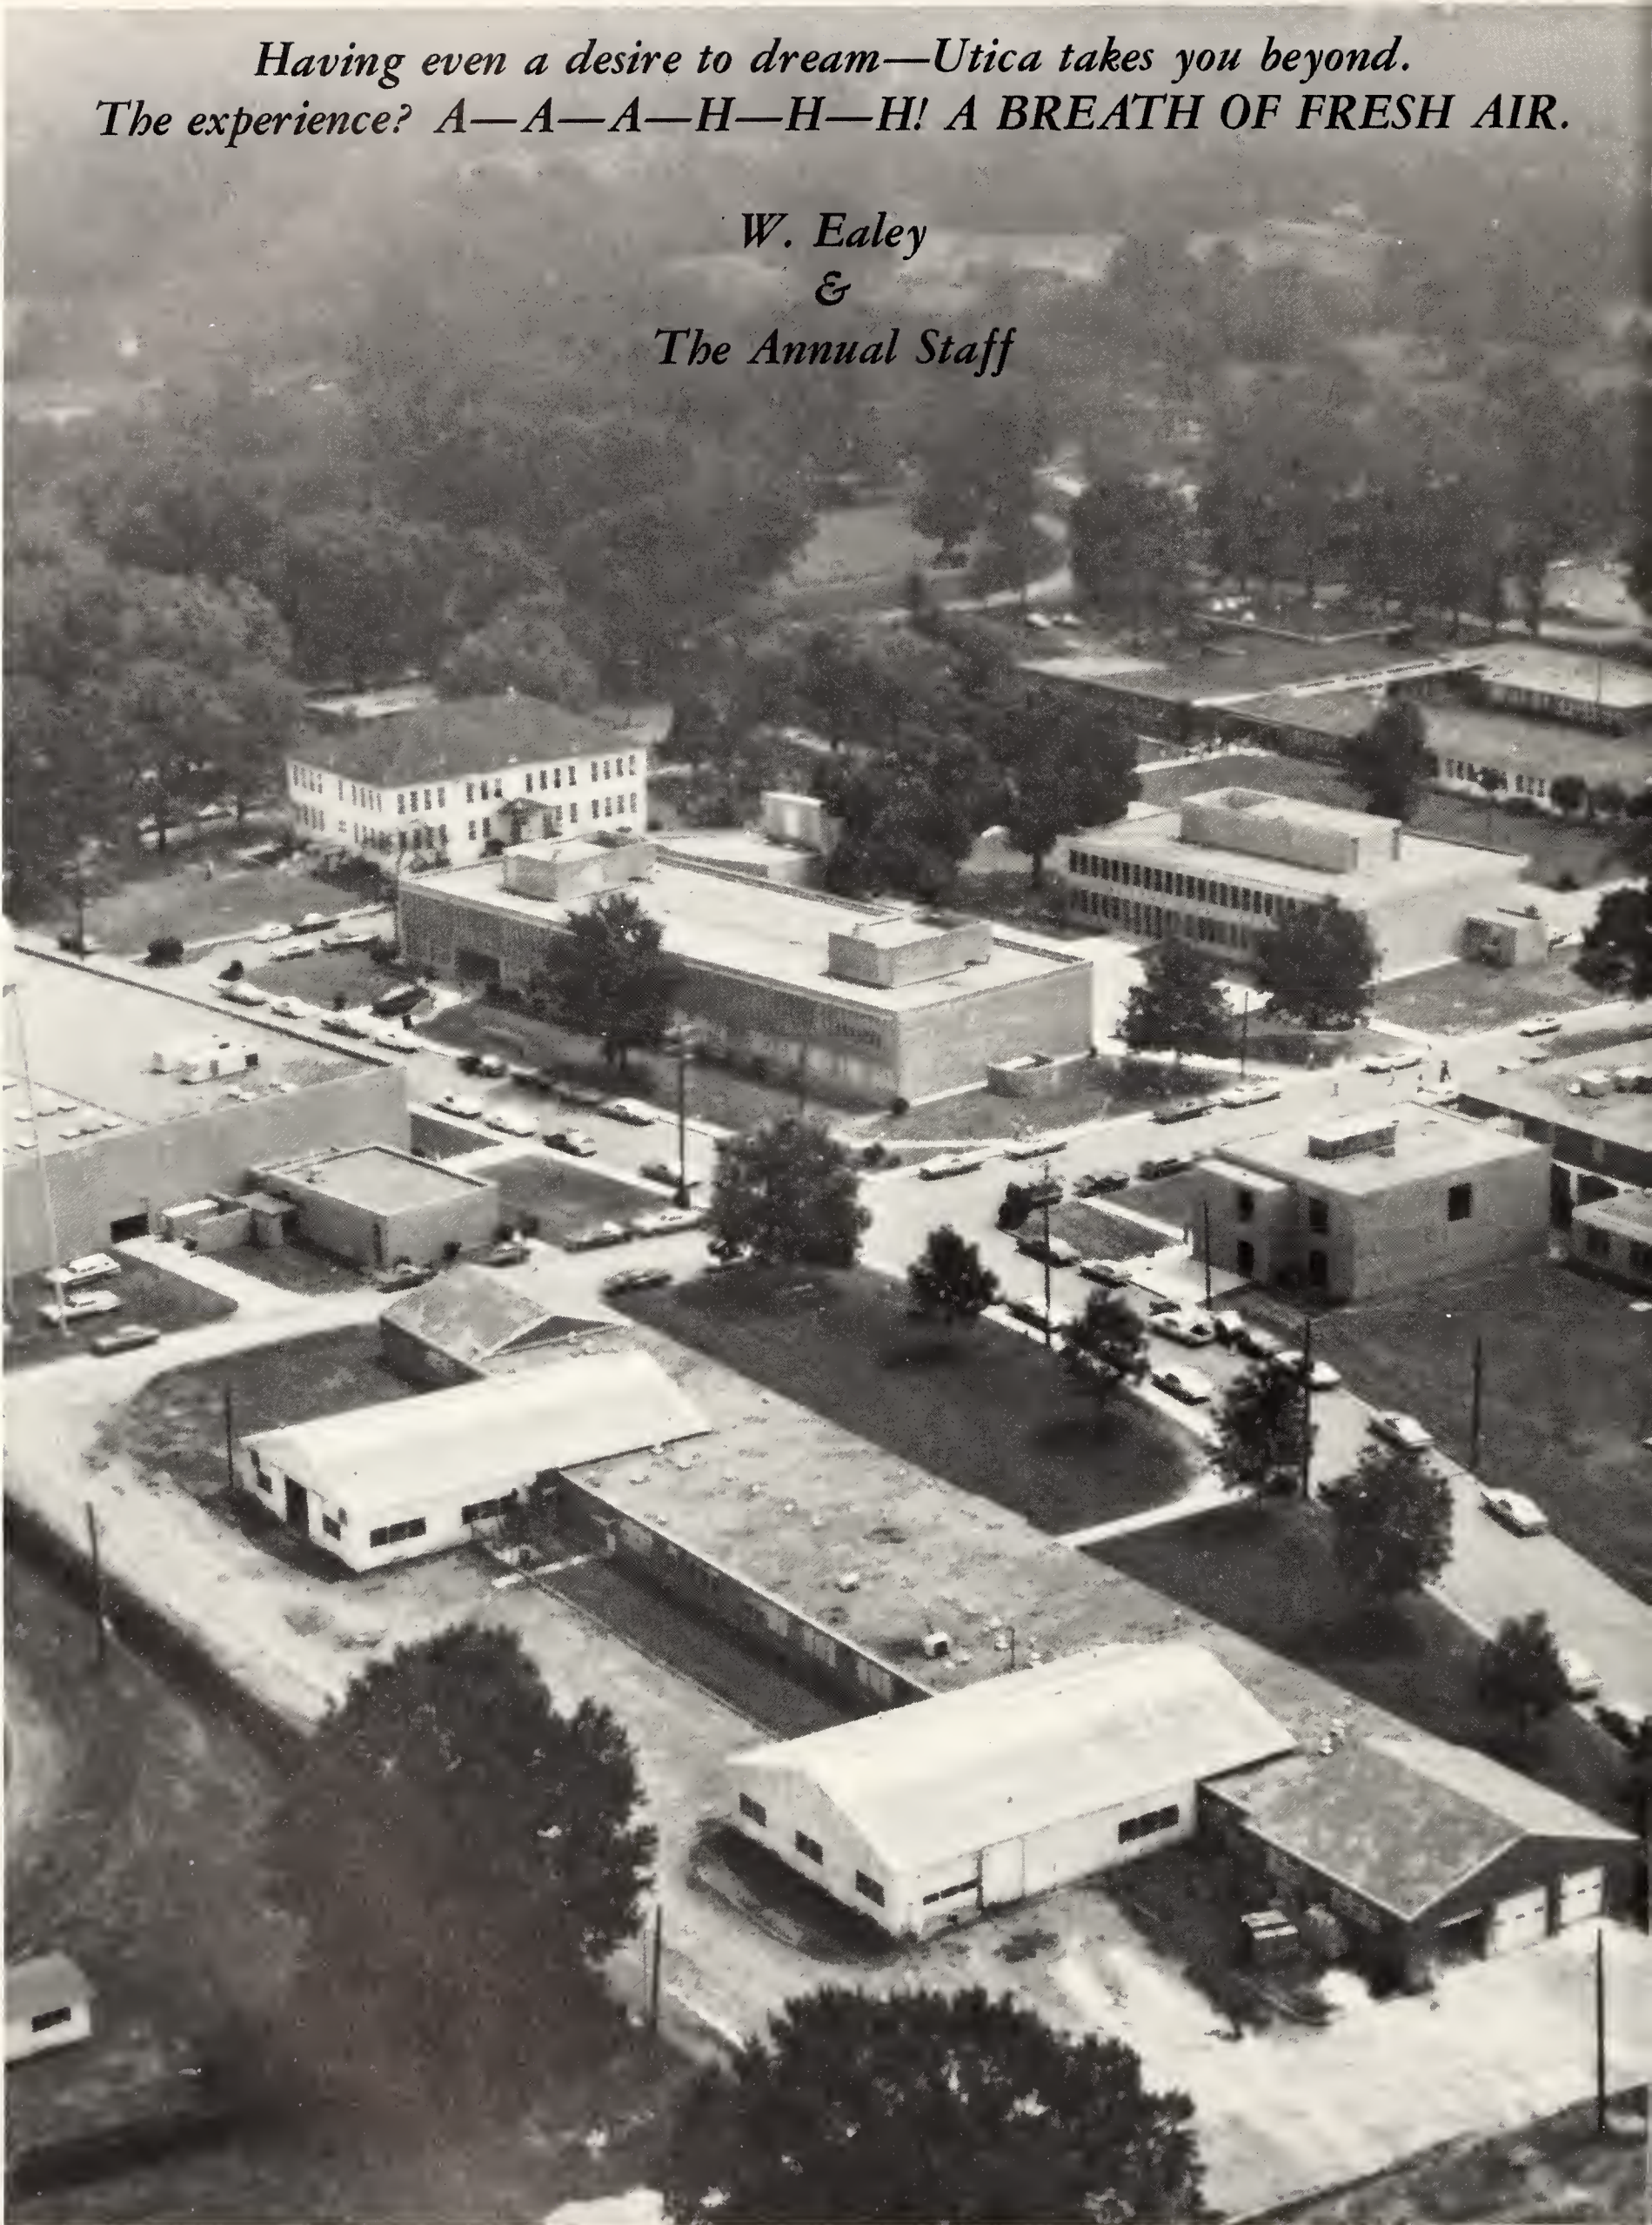

The cast forms a solid line of unity and the performance ends with an appeal for Black Americans to take PRIDE IN THEIR PAST: plus a challenge to the White Americans to understand the BLACK EXPERIENCE AS A POSITIVE FACTOR in our national life. Because in the final analysis, people cannot love others until they learn to love themselves, under God.

AFRI Productions Associates is a New York based theatrical repertory organization producing and specializing in high quality Black Musical Theater productions coast to coast.
