REGISTRATION

The first day of school, students form long lines for the joy of entering a new adventure—college! They wear all types of comfortable things, some wear smiles and some even wear frowns from the sometime hassles of registration. But when it's all over and done, the bud of their life begins to flower and leaves them with eternal . . .

OPERA SOUTH

Opera South, founded as a showcase for young Black artists as well as to give its founding member schools opera choruses a chance to work with professionals, mounted a special production of "A Bayou Legend" by William Grant Still, which was teletaped at Tujon Lodge in Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Mississippi Educational Television assembled a large production team for the teletaping, headed by award winning producer Curtis Davis. Ed Van Cleef of the Mississippi ETV staff was executive producer.

"A Bayou Legend," by William Grant Still from Woodville, Mississippi was originally set in the Gulf Coast Bayou. Utica Junior College, one of the founding members of Opera South, played a vital part in the production. Its chorus and ballet dancers teamed up with units from Jackson State University to serve as the Opera South chorus and ballet dancers. Dr. Bobby Cooper was director of the choral unit and Miss Bobbie Mason was ballet choreographer.

HOMECOMING AT U.J.C.

Utica Junior College yielded a beautiful and bountiful harvest of homecoming festivities for the 1979-80 school year. The Coronation Ball got underway on Thursday night in the J.D. Boyd Gymnasium. The theme "Forever Mine" was perfect, for the persons associated with the pageant were forever ours.

Making the first appearance on the floor were royal subjects, kings and queens representing various clubs, organizations, and classes. The charming young ladies wore ice-blue gowns with a draped neck and the kings were dressed in white tuxedos with matching white shoes.

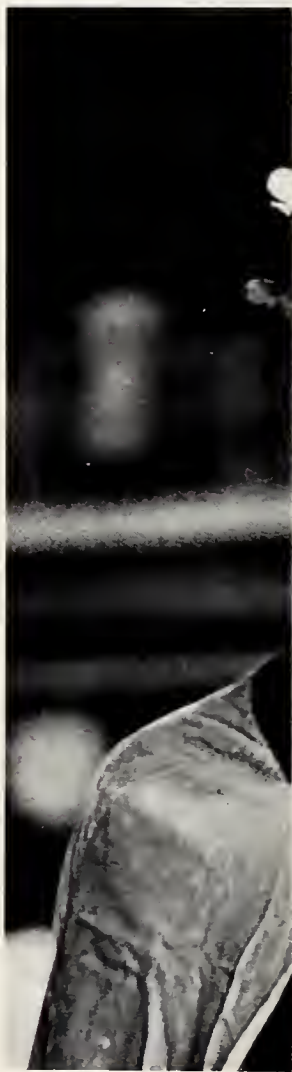

Capturing the attention of the audience was the lovely Miss UJC, Rosie Jones of Utica, who was escorted by S.G.O. President Eugene Frazier. Alternates to Miss UJC were Gwendolyn Hubbard, escorted by P.J. Palmer and Carolyn Hunt escorted by Willie Stimage. The radiance and beauty of the queens filled the audience with glee.

The traditional parade, held on Friday through downtown Utica, was the largest and the most attractive ever. Numerous gaily decorated floats and bands combined to entertain the spectators. Scores of local townspeople turned out for the gala occasion.

Alcorn State Band

CORONATION

Homecoming celebration festivities officially began October 11 with the annual Coronation Ball held in the college gymnasium. "Forever Mine" was the theme for the gala event and music was provided by "Storm."

Rosie Jones of Utica was crowned the 1979 Homecoming Queen by U.J.C. President J. Louis Stokes amid an array of splendor. Kings and queens from various campus clubs and organizations were a part of the Royal Court.

President Stokes crowns Rosie Jones.

UTICANITES RETURN FOR CHRISTMAS MUSICAL

Tracy is presently a junior music major at Tougaloo College and is studying voice with Professor A.M. "POPS" Lovelace.

While a student at UJC, Tracy was a soloist with the college choir and sang numerous times on programs both on and off campus. She appeared on Channel 16 and was featured as "Jim" in the opera "Jubilee" that was performed by Opera/South. Tracy studied voice on the UJC campus with Clara Porter.

Tracy returned to her Alma Mater in December and sang with the college choir on its annual Christmas concert. She delighted the audience with her interpretation of Malotte's Lord's Prayer.

Our annual Christmas concert also featured Mr. Vernon Robinson, music instructor for Hinds A.H.S. and Utica Junior College. Many returned to take part in this once a year affair, Cleophas Henderson and Clifton Brown were also among the returnees.

CHRISTMAS DRAMA—"a smash"

The Thespian Club presented "Christmas at the Gables," a one act comedy by Lidian Moore, on December 20, at 9:00 a.m. in the amphitheater.

The drama satirizes the foibles of the Gable family, an oddly assorted group of four spinsters dominated by a masterful dowager named Mrs. Lamb. Temperament begins to stir in the Gables teapot when the aged and fierce Miss Neville arrives on the scene. Miss Neville is an opponent worthy of doughty Mrs. Lamb's steel, and for a while seriously threatens the cherished peace and harmony of the Gables.

But an accident befalling a beloved cat, the kindly intervention of Violet Knox and the irresistible influence of Christmas Eve finally soften the adamant hearts of Mrs. Lamb and Miss Neville. For once and for all we see the Gables family happy and united whole, singing carols as they finish decorating for the Christmas party.

Earlene Samuel, Hometown: Terry MS. Major: Auto Mechanics,
Ambition: I plan to get a job working in my major field and someday own my own mechanic shop.

As a child, I'd watch my brothers work on their car and there were times when they'd get stuck and didn't know what to do, then I'd hoped that I could help them but didn't know myself. So I decided that I'd learn not only to help them in distressed times, but to also help myself. I enjoy traveling alone and can never tell when my car might quit or even need oil or a simple tune-up, so it is time like those that I need to go for what I know, and if I don't know, my car simply won't go. I enjoy doing things for myself, I hate waiting on anyone especially when it is something that I can learn on my own, so mechanics is my thing.

1978-79 STATE CHAMPIONS

TIME FOR BASKETBALL
WINNING
IS JUST BEGINNING

Will you look at that!

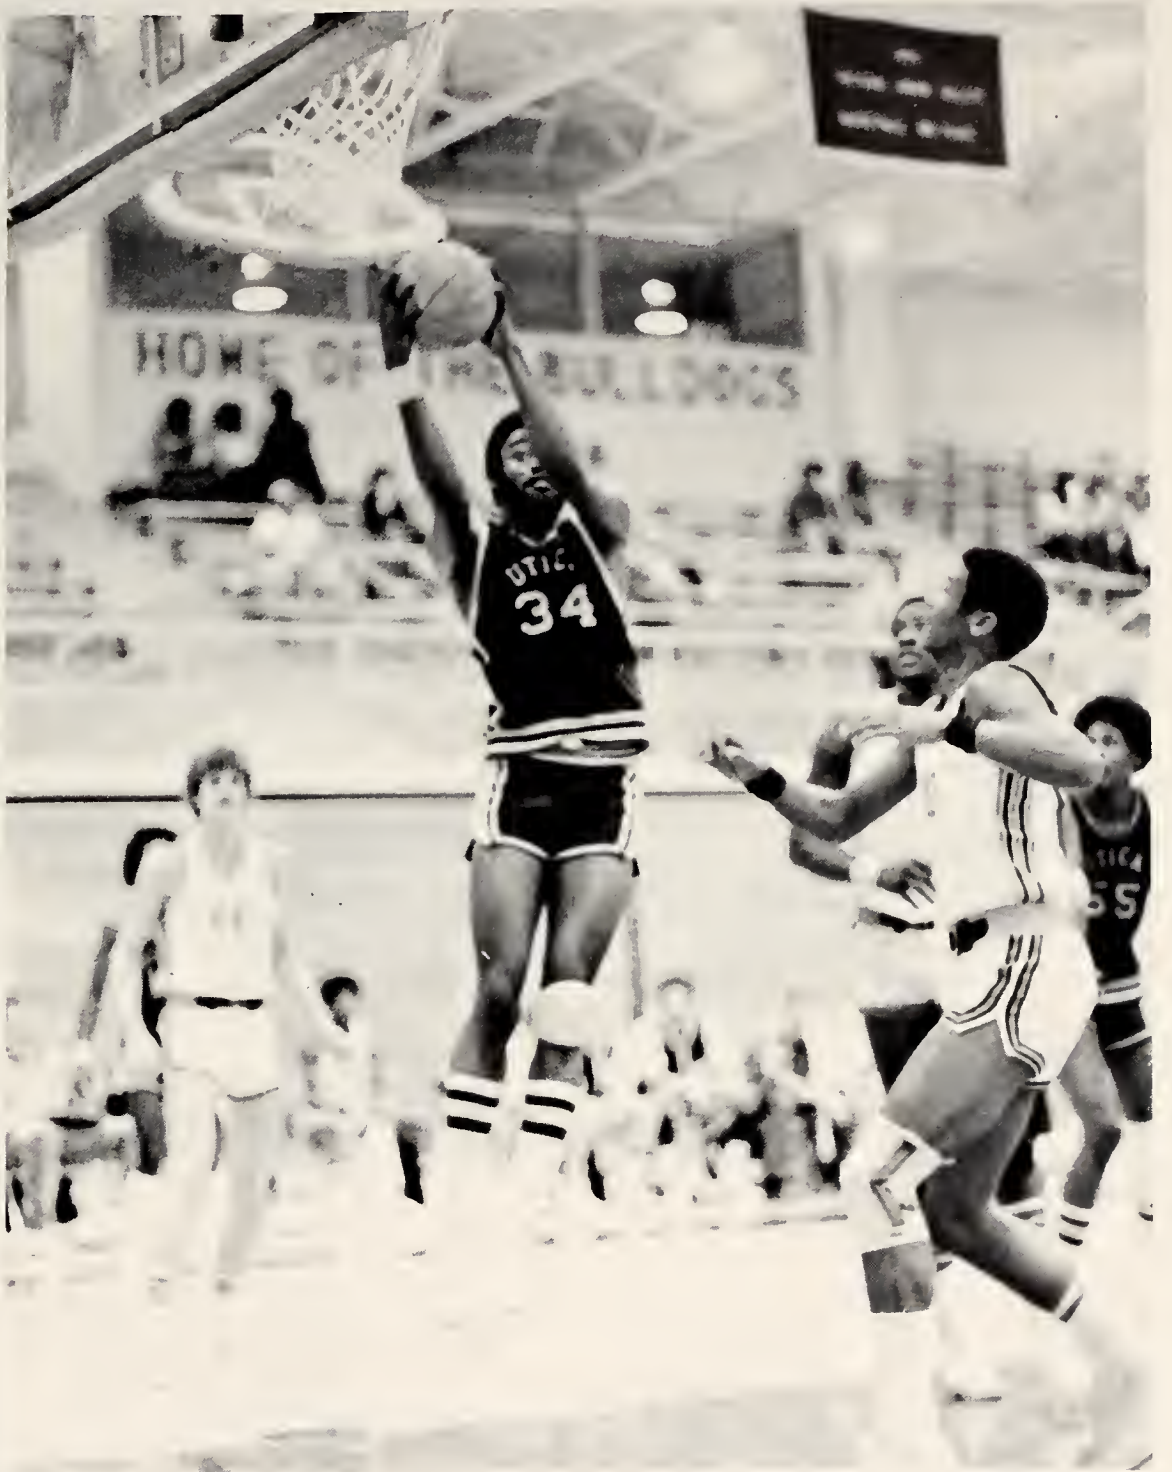

Whoever wants the first two—must be able to catch this ball.

Look! He hit me on my hand, now isn't that considered a foul?

I got it now and I can't let it go.

Stop tickling my hand.

Between the two of us—one of us should at least get the rebound if of course, there is one.

PLAY BALL

This one is mine, Johnny

There's no blocking this one

That's right—stay down everybody

Hey! let me in on the massacre

While we're up and out of the crowd—let's hold hands

Watch this one hand shot

Come back, you round precious thing

Well Boys, It's Over—This shot will do it.

THE BULLDOGETTES

UP!

UP!

AND AWAY

Let Us Pray

My, her nails are pretty

TWO

You Can't Stop Us Now

Thanks—Up There

I'll just tap lightly.

All noise ceased as they watched with glee.

Let's all grab her.

IF YOU KNOW THAT UTICA IS THE BEST—LET ME SEE YOUR HAND

This one is up for grabs

I'll protect this ball with my life

This is a sure one

I'm waiting for it

It doesn't seem to want to come our way

This one is ours for sure

THE UTICANITE STAFF

Fellow Students.

The photo memories have been a result of diligent work. We tried to capture the memories, activities, events and performances of our lives throughout the year here at Utica Junior College.

It is a crucial time for us, students, faculty, staff, administrators and community people. We must therefore concern ourselves actively and work toward intellectual growth. Through unity we may all have pride in the preservation for our heritage as well as our posterity.

As we graduating sophomores near the end of our journey, we will remember those we left behind. The class of 1980 appreciates the generosity shown toward us during our stay. The faculty worked hard that we might grow and remember the things that brought us joy and happiness, and those things that made our journey a pleasant one here at Utica Junior College.
